An Edifying Journal.

One of the most edifying journals that has ever come to the Mirror's table is THE ADVOCATE OF PEACE, a Boston monthly. For seventy-two years it has battled for all that is highest and best in Anglo-Saxon civilization, and yet so little interest do we take in peace as a permanent and enduring factor in government, that we frequently meet intelligent Christians (or at least those who are accepted as such) who have never heard of this or any other journal devoted to peace. The Mirror would like very much to know just how many church papers get the ADVOCATE OF PEACE in exchange. Any good citizen who wants to place a substantial periodical in his family could not place one dollar better than by sending for it. It is the organ of the American Peace Society, and Benjamin F. Trueblood, the editor, has recently made a tour through some of the Southern states lecturing in the interests of peace.— Ellis County (Texas) Mirror.

"Suppose a nation in some distant region should take the Bible for their only law-book, and every member should regulate his conduct by the principles there exhibited. Every member would be obliged, in conscience, to temperance, and frugality and industry; to justice and kindness and charity towards his fellowmen; and to piety, love and reverence towards Almighty God. In this commonwealth no man would impair his health by gluttony, drunkenness or lust; no man would sacrifice his most precious time to cards or any other trifling and mean amusement; no man would steal, or lie, or in any way defraud his neighbor, but would live in peace and goodwill with all men; no man would blaspheme his Maker or profane his worship; but a rational and manly, a sincere and unaffected piety and devotion would reign in all hearts. What a Utopia, what a Paradise would this region be!"— John Adams' Works, Vol. II, p. 6.

Thou Shalt Not Kill.

It is the infliction of death by society in any form—the taking of what God alone gave and what alone should be left to God to take away—which troubles the enlightened community, and will not cease to do so until the practice has been abandoned. The plea of necessity for the protection of society no longer avails; for every article in the museum exhibit which we have invoked offers testimony to the experience of the ages that physical torture and death in its most terrifying forms are not the deterrents to crime which they have been supposed to be. And death in any other form cannot be made more effective. We shall further refine the death penalty to no purpose. It will be none the less legalized murder, the execution of a vengeance which is the Lord's, the survival of a crude and savage social state.— Springfield Republican.
